Stage Layout — The Triffid (to scale)

Fixed for all bands: backline stays put, players plug in and play. To scale from the venue's 2025 tech pack (7 × 5.5 m stage, 1 m high, Mojo barrier in front). Second 8ft×5ft riser available for a rolling drum swap.

Vocal mics V1–V4 numbered left → right as the audience sees the stage; V5 on the riser. All amps line up with the front of the drum riser: bass hard against its right side, guitar amps outside. Keys placed per band on the day; sax/erhu zone stage-left. Wing space is tight (2 m² USL, 2×3 m USR) — bands' own backline stores per the changeover plan, not in the wings.

1	Severance Theme	~2:30	Blackout while the backing video plays - minimal lights at first, then build into No One Knows	Video plays on its own with its own audio; the band does NOT play along. Band enters off stage to blackout during the video, ready for No One Knows.
2	No One Knows - Queens of the Stone Age	~4:45	Reds	Immediate segue from the Severance Theme: a 2-bar click at the end of the playback audio counts this in — no gap. The click is in the main playback audio; just keep playback in the monitors.

1	Careless Whisper (30secs) -> Uprising (Muse)	6min	Dark, spotlight on Erhu to begin. Blackout on the last erhu note, then hit the full band in deep red on the Uprising riff. Hold moody red through the verses with a slow pulse on the stomp beat, brighter white hits on the choruses.	We're doing a transition from Careless Whisper into Uprising - Dark to begin, purples. When uprising starts, bring on the reds.
2	Espresso (Sabrina Carpenter)	3min	Bright and poppy - full warm wash, yellows, oranges and hot pink. No dark moments. Lift into a colour sweep or mirror ball on each chorus, keep the crowd lit.
3	Dumb Things (Paul Kelly)	3min	Warm white pub-rock wash, even and front-lit so faces are visible. Nothing clever - just lift the wash and bring up the crowd for the singalong choruses.
4	Everlong (Foo Fighters)	4:30min	Cool blues and purples on the verses, slam to bright white on every chorus. Drop right down to a single colour for the quiet bridge, then full blast for the last chorus.
5	Covered In Chrome (Violent Soho)	3:45min	Closer - go big. Hot white and red, strobes on the chant, everything on for the outro. Hard blackout on the final hit.

Heads-up: Uses STROBES · blackout moments

Song-by-song

1	Bring Me To Life (Evanescence)	4:00	Sombre for the intro until the song kicks in. After that, anything that looks good.	At the start, we will play half a minute-ish of chanting monks as we come on stage, dressed as monks. We will fade out the sound at then start the piano intro to the actual song.
2	Beer (Reel Big Fish)	3:30	op's choice — match the song	At the start: Billie leaves, Rakka joins Tim. We all remove our monk outfits.
3	Never Had So Much Fun (Frenzal Rhomb) - Inclusion depends on our final rehearsal	2:00	op's choice — match the song	At the start: Tim leaves, Rakka remains.
4	Chelsea Dagger (The Fratellis)	4:30	op's choice — match the song	At the start: Tim rejoins Rakka. Billie joins again for backing. She will need to share a mic with Paul or Graham. In the middle: We will do some audience participation.
5	Say It Ain't So (Weezer)	4:30	op's choice — match the song	At the start: Rakka leaves. Tim remains. Billie joins again for backing.
6	Take The Power Back (Rage Against the Machine)	6:30	op's choice — match the song	At the start: Billie leaves, Tim remains Tim will do an extended chatty intro, gradually turning into the song proper.

Heads-up: We will also have a projector video that (extremely) vaguely syncs with our performance. It's just a hit play once thing, and leave it for 25 minutes. It's mostly slow moving photos and clips of our past gigs.

4	We Can Get Together (Flowers/Icehouse)	4m	No lights for intro guitar riff - come on when the sax starts Blues, reds, purples Strobes for last chorus Black and whites for outro... Heads-up: Uses STROBES · blackout moments · Bass player wants to be as close to the drummer as possible as it is his 16 year old son playing drums. Lead guitarist wants to be close to the bass player as they work closely together and want line of sight. So preferably line up left to right is Alistair far left Richard centre left attack Wesley Sax player - front and center Steve (bass player) close to drums Peter guitarist far right
